

Quick Relief for Bleeding Hemorrhoids

Hemorrhoids can be internal or external and both kinds can ooze fresh red blood. If you have bleeding hemorrhoids you may see bright red blood in your stools, on your mouthwash or in the toilet basin.

Order to Prevent Bleeding You Need to Stop the Flow of Blood to Your Hemorrhoids

You need to stop forcing when you sit on the toilet. Straining during defecation sets unnecessary pressure on the fragile blood vessels in your anus. The increased pressure causes blood vessels to bulge and bleed.

Sitting or Position for a Long Periods May Also Cause Bleeding

For when you sit or stand too much you build up pressure in the rectal veins. If you tend to sit for long periods of time, try to get up and walk around every 15 minutes roughly. If you are on your feet all day take the time in order to sit down and put your feet up. This will increase your circulation and take the pressure off your rectal veins.
